Vulnerable

Evie Irie

I've never been one to get so excited
Usually wouldn't say that, but I cannot help it
Never expected you to be different
Heard so many times before, but not the way you said it

I can't understand how you look at me
Got me losing all control over everything
But something in the air got me suddenly
Falling harder than I ever meant to

But it's okay that I might get a little vulnerable with it
Yes, I'll admit it
It's okay that I might get a bit uncomfortable with it
But it's okay, I can take it
But it's okay, I can take it
It's okay, I can take it
It's okay, I can take it

What if I want to and he doesn't want to?
Was it even worth all the energy I just gave?
Do I deserve this, when under the surface
I'm second guessing every single damn word that I just said?

I can't understand how you holding me
Got me losing all control over everything
But something in the air got me suddenly
Falling harder than I ever meant to

And it's okay that I might get a little vulnerable with it
Yes, I'll admit it
And it's okay that I might get a bit uncomfortable with it
But it's okay, I can take it
It's okay, I can take it
It's okay, I can take it
It's okay, I can take it

Don't lose hope
It's okay, I'll never go
Keep me close enough
I can let you know

That it's okay that I might get a little vulnerable with it
Yes, I'll admit it
And it's okay that I might get a bit uncomfortable with it
But it's okay, I can take it
It's okay, I can take it
It's okay, I can take it
It's okay, I can take it
