

Subjugated Souls

Evildead

They come with no disguise, spread just like disease
Pollution of your mind, infiltrate with ease
Guide you to the spot where they can choose your destiny
Algorithms lead the way; shiny objects all you see
You're the keyboard warrior, you're the cyber king
Life on social media; is the only life you lead
F.O.M.O. rules you now, fuels anxiety
Posting something cool your number one priority
Platform steals your info, and your identity
It makes no difference to you with one million following
The Subjugated Souls from generation Z
Never leave their homes - never see the streets
Just another hash tag, just another screen
Just another follower, just another meme
Who's trending now? your enemy trolling on every stream
So many lives, the dark web, gossip on your social feed
Boiling anger, addictive hunger, separate your families
Twisted visions of your opinions, consumption on overload
The downward spiral, the sheep quarrel, gazing into nothingness
They scroll and stare, but still don't care; compulsive 'til the bitter end
The Subjugated Souls from generation Z
Never leave their homes - never see the streets
Just another hash tag, just another screen
Just another follower, just another dream
