

Oathbreaker

Exmortus

Over the western lands a long shadow lies
And in evil times the dead awaken and arise
Until the end they know no peace, remain forlorn
As punishment of old for an oath they have forsworn

So hearken now
'Tis my will to seek death
Dare the depths and doors of darkness

Oathbreaker
You will suffer me to pass
Oathbreaker
Your hour's come at last
Oathbreaker
Bring forth your ghastly host
Oathbreaker
Come now fulfill your oath

The way is shut within this land of mist and bone
I call upon you now all summoned to the stone

So hearken now
'Tis my will to seek death
Dare the depths and doors of darkness

Oathbreaker
Behold for we have come
Oathbreaker
May this curse be undone
Oathbreaker
Our own bane we have wrought
Oathbreaker
Charge forth the onslaught

The time has come, our will is strong, we shall not fall
At battle's end we've done aright, answered the call

So hearken now
'Tis our time we seek rest
Dare the depths and doors of darkness

Oathbreaker
We have suffered you to pass
Oathbreaker
The hour's come at last
Oathbreaker
Immortality we loathe
Oathbreaker
We have at last fulfilled our oath
