In Reversal

It starts from within Confess, repent, let go The truth will set free Let the holy power Ignite the fire inside The spirit will trigger Vanished dreams in your life Face your life No need to fake The light will let you see Reversal Hearts on fire They will see Through the love between us Deeper, more profound You will have to choose: Hiding inside The masquerade of death A transparent life With a burning heart