

Unconditionally

Extreme

So tell me what can i do
That you couldn't see through
From the very start
There is only one thing
Yet to come from my heart

Loving you, unconditionally
Loving you, unconditionally
That's what i want to be
What you are to me

Can you see why it's so hard
For me to break apart
From all the things i hold
Closer to a heart
That has grown, far too cold

Loving you, unconditionally
Something new
To a heart yet not free
That's what i want to be
What you are to me

And though it seems impossible
When both of my hands are full
That's the only condition
That keeps me
From loving you ...
