

Cold rain just never seems to stop
And with every drop
She's watching over me
I guess I'll stop and stare
And I'll tell her how I feel
Cause I know that's part of me

I give her pieces
I give her pieces
Pieces of me
And she can take what she wants
But she should take what she needs

Cause I've been thinking for a while
And I've been thinking for a while

Cold rain never seems to stop
And I've shown her what I got
And it takes over me
I showed her all the doubt
And I let the velvet clouds pour the rain on me

Soft shiver never felt a lie yeah
Where does she
Where does she reside?
She's been laying down her head for a while
She's trying to catch up catch up on sleep
Catch up on sleep
Catch up on sleep
