

A World Full Of Grey

Eyefear

In the eyes of madness I met a friend
He told me to believe not what to believe in
Now I've turned to the strangest corners
To seek solace for what's been done
In my darkest hour I turned to you
But you run - what from

Take this pain hide me from dark
Ease my sorrows in a world full of grey

I've felt insanity - I've stumbled in the dark
I've seen empty oceans full of pain
That leads to the shoreline that covers our shame
I went there to meet you but when I got there
You were gone

Take this pain hide me from dark
Ease my sorrows in a world full of grey
