Escape

Eyes Set to Kill

Grind your teeth, bite your tongue till it bleeds From beneath, they've come out to feed Only we can mold our own destiny Believe in me for I'm the light and now I must lead They'll come scraping like violent wind and we will take cover We'll be ready on our own, it's been so long, will we ever see the Sun? We've been alone, counting the days will they breach our hide a way Surrounded by darkness we made it all this way We'll fight off the darkness and plan for our escape Sincerely, I knew you could depend on me to get us out of here alive If only we had more time to plan but now we flee, believe in me They'll come scraping like violent wind How long til it's over? We'll be ready on our own It's been so long, will we ever see the sun? We've been alone, counting the days will they breach our hide a way Surrounded by darkness we made it all this way We'll fight off the darkness and plan for our escape They'll come scraping like violent wind and we will take cover We'll be ready They'll come scraping like violent wind and we will take cover We'll be ready They'll come scraping like violent wind and we will take cover We'll be ready on our own It's been so long, will we ever see the sun? We've been alone, counting the days will they breach our hide a way Surrounded by darkness we made it all this way We'll fight off the darkness and plan for our escape Darkness is an illusion Just don't fall for it Come with me and take my hand, take my hand
