

Devastation

Eyes Wide Open

Devastation
Devastation
I stand in line to see the breakdown
Turning around, zombies are watching me
I try to hide behind the masses
But my footprints leads right back to me
I have to Stand up!
Scream out!
See the pain through my eyes
How it feels under the bleeding sky
I just want to say, we're not here to stay
Humanity is running away

I don't know why
We drift with our impressions
We're building walls and feed the depression
Colored by hate, watered by faith
But it's not too late
It's not too late
See the pain through my eyes
How it feels under the bleeding sky
I just want to say, we're not here to stay
Humanity is running away
Humanity is running away

Standing in line, but still in isolation
Dark circles surrounding me
World on fire, bound by domination
My mask, disconnecting me

See the pain through my eyes
How it feels under the bleeding sky
I just want to say, we're not here to stay
We're bound to
Devastation
