

You Still Are You

Eyes Wide Open

Whispering
Ghost's lies through your teeth
And shadows rally up behind you
Push erase
And so let your memories
Be but broken frames
And waste away

I know that you are hurting
No matter what you say
I can't deny how I feel about you
Would you care to listen
For once in your life
I can't deny or justify your wounds
But to me you still are you

Cut your past
Let me lead the way
Open up and let me in
I know the way to the truth

I know that you are hurting
No matter what you say
I can't deny how I feel about you
Would you care to listen
For once in your life
I can't deny or justify your wounds
But to me you still are you

You put on a smile
But I know what you keep deep inside
The demons that hold you down
You put on a smile
But I know what you keep deep inside
The demons that hold you down

I know that you are hurting
No matter what you say
I can't deny how I feel about you
Would you care to listen
For once in your life
I can't deny or justify your wounds
But to me you still are you

But to me you still are you
I can't deny or justify your wounds
I can't deny or justify your wounds
But to me you still are you
