

Cold Cement

EZI

I was pretty involved with someone so wrong
Was wild till the end
So I got used to the calm
But danger still calls like an old friend

My new baby loves me so much
Got the touch of the century
Hope he doesn't walk out on me
But my baby's such a fuck up
Oh this feels like a memory
They always have this effect on me

Guess I feel on my face again
Hit my head on the cold cement
And it's more than a scrape
But I'm loving the pain, so I find my way back again
Always jump but I never land
Give myself to another man
I knew better than this, but I love that I'm his
Guess I fell on my face again

Is it all my fault I forgive them all
Move on with no bad blood
Try to stand so tall, I can't build a wall
It's how I self inflict

My new baby loves me so much
Got the touch of the century
Hope he doesn't walk out on me
But my baby's such a fuck up
Oh this feels like a memory
They always have this effect on me

Guess I feel on my face again
Hit my head on the cold cement
And it's more than a scrape, but I'm loving the pain
So I find my way back again
Always jump but I never land
Give myself to another man
I knew better than this, but I love that I'm his
Guess I fell on my face again

Guess I feel on my face again
Hit my head on the cold cement
And it's more than a scrape, but I'm loving the pain
So I find my way back again
Always jump but I never land
Give myself to another man
I knew better than this, but I love that I'm his
Guess I fell on my face again
