

Rain

Fabian Mazur

It ain't that easy to say
But I'm anxious of the rain
Cuz I know this love is prone to water damage
So I'm bracing myself for the day
When the clouds gon turn to grey
And when things don't go your way
Will you still make time for me

It's time to fess up
I'm scared the rain is gonna come and take you away from me so
I try to step up
I'm tryna fight these feelings but I'm fighting these demons they make it hard to breathe no
Don't get it fucked up
Cuz you can find the guy who will give you the finer things
Willing to take the time I can promise you other things
I'll give you all my love I don't know 'bout designer rings

So baby, come inside for a second
You know I wouldn't lie to you I'm willing to die for you
I can spend a night without your presence
And that's why
You know I need you in my life

It ain't that easy to say
But I'm anxious of the rain
Cuz I know this love is prone to water damage
So I'm bracing myself for the day
When the clouds gon turn to grey
And when things don't go your way
Will you still make time for me

Would you still make time
Anxious of the rain yeah it fills my mind
I can't pretend Imma need someone who
Can look past all the other things I've done
I mean, when the storm come
I'm a gonna be here by my lonesome
And when the rains out pouring away
Imma need your loving here in order to stay

It ain't that easy to say
But I'm anxious of the rain
Cuz I know this love is prone to water damage
So I'm bracing myself for the day
When the clouds gon turn to grey
And when things don't go your way
Will you still make time for me
