

The Breaks

Face to Face

You really think that you can make a difference?
You try and try to make this world a better place
No one can argue with your best intentions
But the more things change the more they're gonna stay the same

Let me go on

Look around you
Nobody's watching
Something to say
But nobody listens

You want more than you can take
Outreached your grasp
And that's your first mistake
Lost everything
And them's the breaks
Look in the mirror
You ain't getting any younger

He's gonna show them there's nobody better
He's gonna try and take as much as he can take
No matter what he's got to be the winner
There's no reward in life coming in second place

Let me go on

Look around you
Nobody's watching
Something to say
But nobody listens

You want more than you can take
Outreached your grasp
And that's your first mistake
Lost everything
And them's the breaks
Look in the mirror
You ain't getting any younger
