

Death Reflection

Face Yourself

The embrace
Closing in surrounding me
Unfamiliar I can feel it linger
Why won't it leave

Disorienting unfulfilling
I feel as if my world is melting
Giving way to this intrusion
A shadow cast by my reflection
Observing every
Fucking motion
Taking in my final breath
Whispering to me

Take the final step
Embrace the pain
Of your own death

Persevering everything
Inside this false being
I don't know what I'm feeling
I haven't slept
In a whole fucking month
I have no fucking idea
Of what I'm fighting for

Why won't it leave me
No matter where I run
This phantasm finds me

A mirror of myself
That follows so blindly
At every turn it seeks
To seduce me
I have given in

What hope is there now
This silhouette death reflection
Encapsulates my very soul
Entrapping my physical being

Je détiens le pouvoir
De te manipuler à ma guise
De mon âme détachée
J'observe mon corps enchaîné
Va faire chier quelqu'un d'autre
Tu vas arrêter
De me casser les couilles
Putain j'en ai marre
Lâchez moi putain

Agony reigns over me
Now I watch through
What it sees
Leaving me to fade away
As the shadows consume me

I stared into the void
And nothing stared back at me
The abyss remained ever silent
For what I seek lay
Enveloped in shadow
In the end we're all here
To hurt and be hurt

We are all back stabbers
And fair weather friends
So why waste time
With apologies and goodbyes
