

Hypothermia

Face Yourself

You're trapped under ice
Hypothermia
Consumes my bones
In ways you'd never even know
Living a lie is their demise
You'll never let them see their kids
A slow decay
What a fucked up way
They'll never get to bury their dead
You're just a corpse with no remorse
Your greed will freeze my name in stone

Feel the blood icing in your veins
Impacted by all these cold souls
Trapped in the world's pain
No compassion no consideration
In the ice facing our reflection

Reflecting on their past mistakes
The leaders of the world have failed us again
Watch the world grow cold
And its people shiver under the pressure
Of a crystallizing future

The ice age has begun
Mediocrity preserved into the ice
Will reduce the next
Generation to frozen minds
No more thinking no more feelings
Eternal snowing on our society

Feel the effects of the hypothermia
Our senses getting confused
By this cold weather
Hypothermia

Reflecting on their past mistakes
The leaders of the world have failed us again
Watch the world grow cold
And its people shiver
Under the pressure of a crystallizing future

Ice solidifying
Flakes falling from the sky
Announcing
The continuity of this cold era

You self centered shit bag
Blinded by your fucked up message
You tried to sell us something
You don't believe in
As soon as you could
You turned your back on us all
Since there was no justice for any of us
It's time for you to face vengeance

Feel the bitter wind before you descend

Was it worth it in the end
To be suspended in this frozen land
Frozen vessels awaiting
The demon is waking I can see the end
Opens the mouth of hell
Frozen cryptids tear you limb to limb
And I'll throw your pieces to the gates
Damnation begins
