

Lulled by a divine sound
In the hollow of an infinite blue
We sail to the unknown
Lost between gigantic waves

Our tears merging with the foam
As we give ourselves
To these creatures of unreal beauty
Entwined by a sweet death
Reaching to their fingers
Surrendering in their glowing arms
Lost in their ocean eyes

Tempted to taste their lips
Craving for the kiss of death
They will take us to the fucking abyss

As we drown the song moves away quietly
My heartbeat takes over their melody
Destined to be lost in the deep

And as we drown
Our screams will echo in the deep
Our blood feeds the mighty ocean

As they bite us with their sharp teeth
In harmony with the waves
Their voice resonates

As we watch the stars reflecting through the surface
Lungs filled with water as I try to breathe
Blinded by the curtain of red hair

And as we drown
Our screams will echo in the deep
Our blood feeds the mighty ocean

Finding comfort in the arms of death
The sea is restless
Dark waves approaching
Murderer murmurs to my ear
The last song I'll hear
In her eyes abandoning myself
Here I will rest in the abyss
