

Tides of Change

Fade

Plastic in everything
All bright as stars looking at it's best
But you pretend to be in this bullshit
Way you think's a ten

Don't know what you see in here
But i've got no time to waste for that mistake
Drain your sins and stay the fuck down

In these tides of change
I must put an end to this
Before everything comes crashing down
Like the burning sky that bleeds
And turns everything to stone

Yet no one seems to care
Or should i say that they can't believe?
They can't believe
They can't believe

The road to prominence
Is where i now need to take from here
The journey of infinity
Waits for me in oblivion

Back up cause you're in my way
I need to get away from this nightmare
A total disaster 101

In these tides of change
I must put an end to this
Before everything comes crashing down
Like the burning sky that bleeds
And turns everything to stone

Yet no one seems to care
Or should i say that they can't believe?
They can't believe
They can't believe

Take a good look around
Can't you see what you've done?
After everything comes crashing down
It'll be too late for anything
To breathe it back to life

In these tides of change
I must put an end to this
Before everything comes crashing down
Like the burning sky that bleeds and turns
Everything to stone
Yet no one seems to care
Or should i say that they can't believe?
They can't believe
They can't believe
