Force Fed Rainbow

Failure

Look out at your horizon
Your force fed rainbow
Your intestinal future is on the rise

It's so hard to believe in
Pleasure felt as it's leaving
A world made for deceiving
You alone with your pain

Come meet me in the silence
I will wash it all away

You left with only a heartbeat
And the sound as your veins breathe
Your screaming ears never leave you
As your eyes creep to the sky

Come meet me in the static
We can wash it off
Deprivation is a freedom, disconnection is life

Come meet me in the silence
We can turn it off
All this impotence to violence, disconnection is life

It's so hard to believe in
Pleasure felt as it's leaving
A world made for deceiving
You alone with your pain

Come meet me by the river
I will wash it off
All these longings are forever, disconnection is life

Come meet me in the silence
I will turn it off
The best dreams all turn to violence, disconnection is life
Is life
Is life
Is life
