

Pillowhead

Failure

I sprained my will
Lying in bed.
Counting the pores across my skin.
I'm so ashamed
To love no one
My ego's bent and my pride's undone.

I'll spend the night
With my pillowhead girl
We never fight or say a word.
I'll spend my life
With my pillowhead girl
She is the lovely faceless queen.

I gave up hope
In finding you.
I've got a friend I've grown used to
I'm so ashamed
To love no one
My ego's bent and my pride's undone.

I'll spend the night
With my pillowhead girl
We never fight or say a word.
I'll spend my life
With my pillowhead girl
She is the lovely faceless queen.

I'll spend the night, wasting away
