

Motion Sickness

Fairweather

Ever feel like there's so much more to life
But you just have no clue how to reach it right now?

Sick of all the talk between friends, all the things that offend
Desire everything to be set straight but we can't go back in time

Please don't leave without saying
Goodbye to me
It's only me running after you 'cause
You're everything I need

Sour spirit mixed with the autumn disposition
Never looking out farther than my own room I

Tell myself I'll forget you, I know that's not true
I just hate to be around when things break down between us

Please don't leave without saying
Goodbye to me
It's only me running after you 'cause
You're everything I need

And all the time we spent together
All the nights we screamed whoa
I can't remember what it's like to feel alright
I can't let go of what's killing me so

So this is my apology to you
I hope you know I love you
Let's put back together the world we built between us
I'm sorry, I'm sorry
