For so many years now I've longed to see my home
But despite all I've done so far I walk my path alone
I've always tried to hide the tears, be strong and shake my fears

They wanted me to guide them but fate was after me. Truly fate was after me

I could have lived another way

I'm just a mortal man caught in the events of my time The Gods of Heaven control my destiny
I'm just a mortal man caught in the events of my time I truly hope I am the one in charge of my destiny

The dreams were meant to save and yet they seldom guaranteed The issue wouldn't be lethal, the win so clear In times of need and chaos a defender awaits And so it had to be me, a hero out of hand.

A hero out of hand

I could have lived another way

I'm just a mortal man caught in the events of my time
The Gods of Heaven control my destiny
I'm just a mortal man caught in the events of my time
I truly hope I am the one in charge of my destiny
I'm just a mortal man caught in the events of my time
I truly hope I am the one in charge of my destiny
