Fairyland

Sometimes when the things go wrong
Ask yourself why you're so low
You take what you want without thinking
Nothing comes all alone

Nothing in life is lost in time
All you did returns to you
Not today not even soon
Think chance is on your side

Remember just one thing
You get what you give

But you can change, make up your mind
For better days

Come on, it's time to realise
The fates will find the way
To make the things alright
Come on it's time to recognise
(You are the sunlight and you'll rise again)
Play with fate and pay the price

Living my life as a toss of the dice
Anger and pain this is so cruel
Lies are poison to the mind
Don't fool the others, face the truth

Remember just one thing
You get what you give

But you can change, make up your mind
For better days

Come on, it's time to realise
The fates will find the way
To make the things alright
Come on it's time to recognise
(You are the sunlight and you'll rise again)
Play with fate and pay the price

But the time goes by
And the chase is on
All the light begins to fade

In my soul
There are stains to be erased
Scars that can't be changed
The land that calls me home

But you can change, make up your mind
For better days

Come on, it's time to realise
The fates will find the way
To make the things alright
Come on it's time to recognise

(You are the sunlight and you'll rise again)
Play with fate and pay the price

Come on, it's time to realise
The fates will find the way
To make the things alright
You are the sunlight and you'll rise again...
