The Fall of an Empire

Fairyland

So much of our battle
and the freedom of Osyrhia
The darkness laid upon us could never be undone

By the way of shadows from a thousand years
We'll see our kingdoms fall into darkness Yet I tried relams now long forgotten and the woods and plains of Siridian

All that was long beloved will be turned to dust when time comes by The visions dance into the darkness of my mind Thus will end our battle
and the freedom of Osyrhia

The dark lord undefeated at least will get his time What for all the fights and promises we've had Have Gods deserted us, or was it the light?

[bridge:]
By my words I'm asking for Gods to guide me through the dark I'll stand for all The darkened dreams have called a freedom cry as I've tried, and i tried

[chorus:]
The shining tears of sorrow fallen in these dreams
Were never mine
The fall of an empire raise a thousand screams that never die
The shining tears of sorrow fallen in these dreams
Were never mine
The fall of an empire raise a thousand screams
Screams that never die

Since then we've marched through a desert of hope and yet our passion remains The longing will for the kingdoms we've lost here
The voice of heroes thunders again through the land of our freedom, our land

Courage of all, and the shining of Light
But still the empire falls

[bridge]

[chorus]
