

Innadadance (Edit)

Faithless

Brothers and sisters
How much time has passed?
We still believe that cultures are connected, all respected
Inclusive
Exclusive
One family produces

Innadadance
Innadadance
Together
Innadadance

Even if last night you barely got any sleep in
Have no motive for the weekend
Your account's in the minus and the bills are increasing
Council turned off the water and they still ain't fixed the heating

Even after the world decided to crumble into pieces
At least you're still here and you're breathing
You should be happy to be alive despite it all
You don't need any other reason

For every hater, there's a lover
For every raindrop, there's the summer
Despite the war, there is peace
We still break bread even after we beef

For every hater, there's a lover
For every raindrop, there's the summer
Despite the war, there is peace
We still break bread even after we beef
