Caught Like a Fly

Falling in Reverse

Attention, Attention everyone! I got a couple of things I would like to get off of my chest HAHA FRIENDS! Who the fuck needs them? You know who you are! Eh hmm

Caught like a fly In a web of your lies It's truth be told now Or meet your demise!

So how did it feel? When you held the knife That you stuck right in my back A thousand times!

Your grandfather would probably roll in his grave If he knew of that person you had became! I will not just lay down and take this! Not again, not again

You have left my heart, black and blue Just like your father did to you!

How does it feel, knowing your buried alive See through bloodshot eyes your left empty inside There I was, strung out and drug through the mud I must agree, you're just like me

And when you die I won't be at your wake No eulogy from me Just a smile on my face And while God might be busy With judging your soul I will have slept with the girl That you loved most!

You have left my heart, black and blue Just like your father did to you!

How does it feel, knowing your barely alive See through bloodshot eyes your left empty inside There I was, strung out and drug through the mud I must agree, you're just like me

Whooaaa

Now how does it feel knowing your barely alive See through bloodshot eyes your left empty inside There I was, strung out and drug through the mud I must agree, you're just like me

I'm no fucking saint But at least I'll fucking sing about it Oh, the audacity!
