

Finn Hatches A Plan

Falling Up

She said will you be my protector
There are golden fires from lights in the attic and I'm lost

Cause I know you'll be in my dreams
If your eyes are as big as moonbeams
And then we will catch fire, it will swallow us whole

I know
I am really afraid
But I am her protector

You know
You'll be never alone again
Cause I am your protector
Cause I am your protector

She said will you call my name out
Cause sounds have a way of losing themselves in here
And maybe it's meant to be this way
Cause we are the young in love
