

Kaleidoscopic Waves

Fallujah

Bleeding through the floor in waves of color
Chromatic currents pull me under
Like a memory from worlds away
A language I've lost

Sparks ignite in my mind as eternity
Now rewinds and unravels in front of me
Time will absorb and embrace me
Time will engulf and erase me
And in this moment, I feel everything this world has ever known
A revelation from the apparition silently leading me to home

Together, unchained as stars erupt in harmony
My spirit will bathe in their kaleidoscopic waves
My sleeping soul, awake
Burnt down and remade by their kaleidoscopic waves

I can remember the life I used to know
Down at the center of all I was before
Heavenly vessel, cosmic divinity
Born from the echoes of who I used to be

Dive in deep
Oceans of grief inside of me, dissolving
Embryonic dreams of old memories
Are violently flowing out

Together, unchained as stars erupt in harmony
My spirit will bathe in their kaleidoscopic waves
My sleeping soul, awake
Burnt down and remade by their kaleidoscopic waves
