

The Crystalline Veil

Fallujah

The first primordial breath of a new life
The fading memories of my grief disowned
The purest catharsis I've ever known
A shimmering god in the moonlight
Now beckoning me alone

My visions softly fade into monochrome
In time, all futures will unfold
These mortal boundaries were never set in stone
Enlightenment delivers its guiding grace into my bones

So far beyond humanity
Transcending all desires below
A lost foundational epiphany
My only destination
Where cosmic winds of fate have blown

Holding truth inside the shifting sands of time

Ripple across me in waves of light and gold
As my compassions overflow
Waiting beyond me, within creation's glow

Holy light, touch me and free my mind
You direct me, you are my guide
A reflection of my inner life
Where all things collide
Sleeping soul, awake and compelled to rise
By your omnific designs
Show me how to focus the fear inside
Free my earthly mind

Frozen time where I remain
Crystallized in eternity

My body's death was only the ending of a dream
You have showed me how to breathe

Holding truth inside the shifting sands of time
The veil of night has lifted from my eyes

Yet, now this door appears to me
I can almost hear it speak
Through the portal I can see
My bridge to humanity

Oh dreamer, fly with me
Or fall deeper down in sleep

Turn the key, this gateway calls to me
My choice: to leave, or claim ascendancy

Oh dreamer, fly with me
