

All These Daydreams

Fallulah

I left my heart in a fantasy land
I closed my eyes and I tried to go back
Been many years and I'm older now
I should know better but I don't somehow
I wanna dance, make a fool of myself
I wanna raise a magnificent hell
Just like the night when we drink at the bar
You had too many and I reached for the stars

All, all these daydreams
Try to steal my blues away
All, all these daydreams
I can hear them call my name

I left my head in the golden clouds
They talk and [?] try to get me to come back down
Mid-conversation, I'm not really there
Should pay attention 'cause it's not really fair

All, all these daydreams
Try to steal my blues away
All, all these daydreams
I can hear them call my name

All the time I hear the siren song
Saying baby, they won't notice you're gone
Sneak out for a moment or two
Into the blue
Of where the wild things grow
You got a smile on your face
Nothing to trace
They will never know

All, all these daydreams
Try to steal my blues away
All, all these daydreams
I can hear them call my name

Try to steal my blues away
I can hear them coming to me
