Another One

Fame On Fire

Looking back at our time alone couldn't figure out what I was fucking you for It was numbing it was so inviting, I can't deny it Blue hair and barbie lips I couldn't help myself but to drown in it.
When the rain poured in, I took it like a drug

I was giving gold and what I didn't know she was taking all control s he was putting on a show

She's just another one
In this game of love
Why would I think that we would last forever
It's all a trend, she nothing
It's all a game of pretend
Why would you think that we would last forever

One at me and three at you lying to yourself ain't nothing new, Judgi ng a life, reflecting you, you can't deny it
She took my friend and he stole my girl
I guess I gotta accept this world
Running from the truth that you will never know
Now he's losing all control
He just couldn't go and what he doesn't know is they're one big joke

She's just another one
In this game of love
Why would I think that we would last forever
It's all a trend, she nothing
It's all a game of pretend
Why would you think that we would last forever

And baby don't cry to me
You know you lost me
Oh you lost me
So keep me in mind while she on her knees
You know you're just as weak

She's just another one
In this game of love
Why would I think that we would last forever

She was my blue haired love, it was all for fun
How could I think that we would last forever?

She's just another one
In this game of love
Why would I think that we would last forever
It's all a trend, she nothing
It's all a game of pretend
Why would you think that we would last forever
