

If You Cared Enough

Far

If you cared enough, if you cared enough
You could walk again, never see me, lie to be
If you cared enough, if you cared enough
You could make a gun, you could settle in
You could break it down and order in
If you cared enough, if you cared enough

So what do you do, runnin' around, runnin' around
And I wonder when, and it's all up
And nothin' to choose, every time, ever a line
And I'm on my head, and I'm in my bed

Are you good enough
You could ask me time and time again, shake your world around a gain
Are you good enough, are you good enough
You could make a mark you could settle in
You could break it, darlin', all a then
Are you good enough, are you good enough

So what do you do, runnin' around, runnin' around
And I wonder when, and it's all up
And nothin' to choose, every time, ever a line
And I'm on my head, and I'm in my bed

So what do you do, if you cared enough
Water and memory
If you cared enough, if you cared enough

So what do you do, runnin' around, runnin' around
And I wonder when, and it's all up
And nothin' to choose, every time, ever a line
And I'm on my head, and I'm in my bed

So what do you do