

Missing You Was All I Did Today

Faron Young

I thought if I really try I'd get over you
And I would spend my time doing what I wanted to
But all my good intentions were lost along the way
For missing you was all I did today
I thought I'd get you off my mind find someone new
And go out have some fun like I wanted to
But like old plans of wiser men they often go astray
And missing you was all I did today
Missing you yet loving you each moment you're apart
Knowing there could never be another in my heart
I'll try to find new things to do to pass the time away
But missing you was all I did today
Missing you yet loving you...
Missing you was all I did today
