

Occasional Wife

Faron Young

If our life is worth living together then why let it go
If our love's worth saving it needs some attention to grow
It needs more than just an occasional piece of your life
A home just can't stand when it has an occasional wife

The name of the game you're playing must be
See how far you can go
But can't you see what it's doing to me
And the world we both used to know

If our life is worth living together then why let it go
If our love's worth saving it needs some attention to grow
It needs more than just an occasional piece of you life
A home just can't stand when it has an occasional wife
A home just can't stand when it has an occasional wife