Part IX

Fates Warning

stayed up late last night
lying here in bed
looking for words
to say the things i left unsaid wind at my window
whispers to me instead
and i lie alone
writing letters in my head

where you are, i am
through nights that never end
in words i'll never send

walked alone last night cold streets of could be anywhere
looking for words
to share the thoughts i could not share road at my heels
takes me away instead
and i walk alone

through streets that never end
where you are, i am

never, never send

still looking for words still writing letters in my head
