You're not sad again, are you splashgvng?

This one time at sixteen, I had a friend group
And we were partying
We was fucked up on some molly
In a foreclosed house, it was a good day

Guess I haven't talked too much to them in quite a while
I've become a workaholic cursed with inspiration
I hope that everybody that I once knew isn't stagnant
I hope that everything that I've worked hard on isn't a delusio

I wrote all my insecurities on sticky notes
I told all my enemies that I'll just let it go
I forgave myself and everyone that did me wrong
I swear (I swear)
