

Magick is a whispered word
But solid like a stone
The will to rise
Within your blood and bones

Magick is intention
That turns a song into a prayer
But so are you – my heir

Nimue – the world falls apart
Side by side into the dark
Bound by love and sorcery
Your Magick set me free

Magick is a laughing fool
A dance into the dark
A glimpse of hope
Within a circle of white chalk

Magick is fleeting
Like a song that rides on air
But so are you – my heir

Nimue – the world falls apart
Side by side into the dark
Bound by love and sorcery
Your Magick set me free

I knew it all
And everything at once
I knew it all
Within my trance

I knew it all and I could see
That you would bring this sleep to me
I knew it all, the beauty and the pain
The other world within the planes

Did sacrifice eternity
For a prison in a sacred tree

Did sacrifice the wisdom and my reign
To be human
And to love again