

Hurts Me Too

Faye Webster

My mother told me one day
She's tired of my sad songs
But loving you has only
Made me cry twice or so
The day that I said I loved you
You didn't say it in return
That was the day I realized
That silence is actually hurt

And I am done changing words
Just so my songs sound prettier
I just don't care if it hurts
'Cause it hurts me too

I hate that feeling at night
When I thought my eyes were closed
But they were open the whole time
It was just too dark to know
And what am I 'posed to do when
My dad cries in front of me?
Do I just close my eyes and
Pretend like I didn't see?

And I am done changing words
Just so my songs sound prettier
I just don't care if it hurts
'Cause it hurts me too
