

Flood Into

Fazerdaze

(Flood, flood, flood, flood back in to me)

Now's the time

Take back all your space and I'll take back mine
Letting out your breath when I breathe in mine
Say what you need to say and I'll be just fine
I'll take it in my stride

I let myself get lost in you
Gave it all too much, too much too soon
And within you I would disappear
So when you wanted me I wasn't there
And when your hands searched through
Searched through the sheets
To only find an empty shell of me
But when I finally found the sense to leave
I felt myself flood back, flood into me

Flood, flood, flood, flood back in to me
Flood, flood, flood, flood back in to, in to me

Summer night showed me all your skin
And I showed you mine
We dissolved right in but overtime
I was losing the edge of myself so I drew a line
What I became was your blur

I let myself get lost in you
I gave it all too much, too much too soon
And within you I would disappear
So when you wanted me I wasn't there
And when your hands searched through
Searched through the sheets
Trying to find the empty shell of me
But I have finally found the strength to leave
I felt myself flood back, flood into me

Flood, flood, flood, flood back in to me
Flood, flood, flood, flood back in to, in to me
