

I look for me in everyone else
I soak it in, soak up like a sponge
My walls came in then start to go up
I crawl back in back into my shell

You break me in, break into my mind
Then mess with me just some of the time
And wore me down like everyone else
I start to lose me within myself

Why, why the wide eyes?
(Why, why the wide eyes?)
Close them shut when it gets too much
Why, why do I try?
(Why, why do I try?)
I close up when it gets too much