Why do they hate us- you ask stupidly Covered in the dust of your perfect world Why do they hate us- we did nothing wrong We were just living our dream I can't understand their rage We brought them peace and democracy We freed them from their daily slavery And taught them our perfect dream We reached out our hand to them To live the better way We reached out our hand to them Maybe you have to see- the other side of the coin While we grow obese- millions daily starve While we sail our yachts- boat people risk everything To escape the war Your dream fertilizes the seed The seed of wealth through greed I die for all this greed- as i bleed I hate the world you adore Just see the poor begging for more They'll crush you and your greed - as we bleed We worry about our stock market- while many attempt to live on less Your dream is a nightmare for millions! Can this be called civilization? How can we accept this obvious injustice Without wanting to change this unfair state? And no one is innocent as long as we tolerate the lies about th e state of the world That's why they hate us- does it make sense to you? This might be the reason- it's in our hands And no one is save when the south will turn to north one day Poverty ignites the hate that will burn us all Their vengeance will break you
