

Fools Can't Sleep

Feeder

Sent you the flowers, I've broken the trust It's hard to surrender, it's hard to give up

Those summers together, now everything is gone I'll always remember, you'll always be young, young

Somewhere she's sitting back looking at pictures that hang on the walls, oh Maybe those moments together come back to her and she recalls

I still feel that somewhere you're alone
And I can't sleep cause somewhere you're alone

She was the finest, she had it all,
She was an angel, I worshiped her soul

Somewhere she's sitting back looking at pictures that
hang on the walls, oh
Maybe those moments together come back to her and she
recalls

I still feel that somewhere you're alone
And I can't sleep cause somewhere you're alone

Somewhere she's sitting back looking at pictures that hang on the walls
Maybe those moments together come back to her and she
recalls

I still feel that somewhere you're alone
And I can't sleep cause somewhere you're alone
You're alone, oh
