

Let the reason be known
Now the damage is done
Suffocated the life we need
You've got your head in the clouds
Got no voice left to shout
You've reached the end but I can't give in

You said you don't know
You can't show as the world glows
But don't say it's over now

It's too late to call, to fall down and crawl
We can't find another way
'Cause we're fading fast
And I don't think we could last another day

I've got you under my skin
Like a cancer within
Every second I feel you grow
Find a healing inside as emotions divide
We've reached the end but I can't give in

You said you don't know
You can't show as the world glows
But don't say it's over now

It's too late to call, to fall down and crawl
We can't find another way
'Cause it's fading fast
And I don't think we could last another day

You said you don't know
You can't show as the world glows
But don't say it's over now

It's too late to call, to fall down and crawl
We can't find another way
'Cause it's fading fast
And I don't think we could last another day
We won't last another day
