

In the streets of a city where dreams alight
The light is flickering, the midnight shine
Every heartbeat resonates with the city's song
In the pulse of the streets, we all belong

Bloom, oh, bloom
In the city's embrace, where memories sink
I'm leaving a trace with every step we take
We bloom, oh, bloom
We ignite the fire at the heart of the Earth
And desires inspire, you watch us burn

Bloom, oh, bloom
In the city's embrace, where memories sink
I'm leaving a trace with every step we take
We bloom, oh, bloom
In the city's embrace, where memories sink
I'm leaving a trace with every step we take
We bloom, oh, bloom
We ignite the fire at the heart of the Earth
And desires inspire, you watch us burn

Oh, the sound of traffic lights, a symphony
As we navigate through, life's stories unfold
In the melody of glorious years, we find our voice
In the echoes of the past, we rejoice

Bloom, oh, bloom
In the city's embrace, where memories sink
I'm leaving a trace with every step we take
We bloom, oh, bloom
We ignite the fire at the heart of the Earth
And desires inspire, you watch us burn

Bloom, oh, bloom
In the city's embrace, where memories sink
I'm leaving a trace with every step we take
We bloom, oh, bloom
We ignite the fire at the heart of the Earth
And desires inspire, you watch us burn
