

Your Own Way

Feint

There's nothing more that we can do here
We've got what we need and we don't need their help
But we need a change or something new
A better place or something new to do
We're setting sail for somewhere else

There's no need to close your eyes
And no need to say goodbye
We don't know what it is we'll find
But we'll go just to ease our minds
...
