Bones

Felly

Bruises breaking my bones but it's alright
She did me off in the ruins
It's gonna be one more long night
Don't even know what I'm doing
Just know I'm not here for a long time
Might love you but it's confusing
I can't escape your influence
Cause I can't believe in anything
Like what about you
There's nothing to do

She does things above me
She say she don't love me, but
I think she does
I think she does
I think too much
I think she does

Just for the record you taking too long
My heart is weak but the feeling is strong
What I look like with my head in my palms
Can't get it right when the feeling is off
A day at a time I take it as it comes
It's time to slide but I cannot move on
You by my side but I feel so alone
Head on my chest but you breaking my bones

You breaking my bones
Forget bout my heart
I'm tryna stay strong
Can't stay for too long
She does things to crush me
She said she don't love me, but
I think she does
I think she does
I think too much
I think she does

You breaking my bones
Forget bout my heart
I'm tryna stay strong
Can't stay for too long
She does things to crush me
She said she don't love me, but
I think she does...
