

Truth

Felly

State of the art
Playing my cards (keep at)
Replay swinging like I'm, hanging on bars (keep on)
Playing your part
We don't need your negativity
Until you napping kiddies I will, be your epiphany
Breaking the symmetry
Kicking it raw I stay, testing divinity
Swimming with Jaws like you, you must be kidding me
I keep on smiling
And I pushed the right buttons
You a chick drunk dialing
Got it right now
I'm low key with the hype sound
So put the mic down I can see your night gown
It's bedtime for you sunrise for me
You can try to hold me down but I'm untied and free
Out to get mine, and leave my mark like graffiti
Spilling wet on the train cars
Seeing round the city
Got two, books in my bag
One for art one for spitting
Stay creative with my writtens
Brutalizing every victim
Realizing shit ain't gonna change unless I make the difference
Long road ahead but shit I'm down to go the distance
I'm determined
And leave them burning when I kick my sermon
All the pain that life exerted let it banish in my words
And now I'll never bow down to no human
Got the mind state if you can do it I can do it
And even better
This ain't no sing a long child's song, stupid
This a suffocating artist find the breath in his music
That's truth
So who are you?
Only way I'm going out, is through the roof
Survived the hardest parts now there's nothing left to lose
Couldn't take your lies so now I've found my own truth
This is what I'm here to do
This is what I'm here to do
This is what I'm here to do
You better find your own truth
Restless
