I Will Die With My Head In Flames

Felt

And your faces tells me there's something going wrong today there's something going wrong today

I was thrown into the lions then I did not care what happened can't you see it's all the same that's why I'll die with my head in flames