

God's Accent

Fences

Born like a deer who is falling
This is awful and I'm crying
Covered your skin like a blueprint
God's accent, gods accident

Coffin spawning upstream
But I know you'll still show when I need

I know it was hard for you breathing
So you're leaving, might be relieving
Just want you to know I miss you
And the day time still has a faint moon

Coffin spawning upstream
But I know you'll still show when I need

Now there's a baby who's crawling
Both hospitals, different timing
I guess that's how god likes to plan this
Light passage, high strangeness

Coffin spawning upstream
But I know you'll still show when I need

Yeah, I know you'll still show when I need