My body glows and is swallowed by the mountain Sometimes I fell like a sun a I can quit you when I wanna I swear to good that I can stop I guess I could always run

Walking home alone tonight while dancing the pines Walking home alone tonight
Sometimes I feel like, sometimes I feel like a sun

Left the clothes at the bottom of the fountain Our bodies burned by the sun And we can split you when you wanna Just cut the lark and duck the carps I guess we could always run

Walking home alone tonight while dancing the pines Walking home alone tonight
Sometimes I feel like, sometimes I feel like a sun

Wilkinson, Covington, just a pyramid Born to run, [?] Wilkinson, Covington, just a pyramid Born to run, [?]

Walking home alone tonight while dancing the pines Walking home alone tonight
Sometimes I feel like, sometimes I feel like a sun

Walking home alone tonight while dancing the pines Walking home alone tonight
Sometimes I feel like, sometimes I feel like a sun