

What's your secret for living long
Doing alright never felt so wrong
I lose my mind under the glow of a temporary fade
Validate my fervency
To be so bound never looked so free
Allopathic remedies for now

Two doors down from a deafening sound
I didn't need it til I knew it was gone
Now I move along in distraction
Tolerate my distance, dear
Touch your tongue to my ringing ear
Iterate my scream, we can share a reaction

Mine is a light you can see all night
All the dogs are down, are down

Rearranging endlessly
I saw oblivion at capacity
We should go sometime
Elevate my urgency
When it all breaks down you're a lot like me
Separate your skin just to feel it a fraction

Mine is a light you can see all night
All the dogs are down
All the dogs are down, are down

My light is a light you can see all night
Was I born to be living this way
(Is she listening)
Your light is a light I need alright
Iterate your dream for me

How it goes sometimes
I'm a ghost sometimes
